

InTransit, Inc. is in the process of transitioning to our new name "Market Transport Services" and adopting a new logo to reflect the expanded suite of transportation services we now have to offer.

In 2003, Market Transport, Ltd., an asset based and multi-modal transportation services company, acquired InTransit, Inc., the fifth largest transportation broker in the United States. Since then we have seen explosive growth. We now have over 100 affiliate offices throughout North America and coordinate the movement of over 130,000 shipments per year.

To better serve your expanded transportation needs, visitors to the InTransit Inc. web site will be redirected to our new and improved web site at <http://www.markettransportservices.com>.

All current features on the InTransit, Inc. web site will continue to be available on our new and expanded web site. All logins and passwords will remain the same.

Please be on the lookout for additional information as we move ahead under the Market Transport Services name and logo.

We look forward to the opportunity to expand our business relationships through the additional services.
